Needs a Family

Calvin is a sweet and charismatic 13 year old boy who enjoys watching cartoons, playing video games, and joking around with his friends. Calvin can be introverted as he has experienced a lot of loss. Despite his tough times, Calvin enjoys surrounding himself with friends and putting a smile on their face by making them laugh and playing the guitar. Calvin performs at grade level in school and his favorite subject is math as he loves solving algebra problems.

Calvin would like to find a family that will allow him to grow and continue to play, because a family that plays together stays together.
